

Dear all,

The ESSM together with the European Federation for Sexology (EFS) and Multidisciplinary Joint Committee for Sexual Medicine (MJCSM) have launched two petitions to the European policy makers at European Commission and parliament.

One petition with MJCSM advocates the need of all medical students at the European medical schools and faculties to receive specific education in sexual health by the next possible academic year and the other one with EFS advocates the need of all psychology students of the European psychological faculties to receive specific education in sexual health and sexology by the next possible academic year.

Why this education is needed?

Because we want to improve sexual health through the prevention, diagnosis, treatment and rehabilitation of conditions or diseases that involve gender identity, sexual function, sexual and/or partnership experience and behavior, and sexual trauma and its consequences.

In order to achieve it, Sexology and Sexual Medicine should be an integral and obligatory part of the core curriculum for students in all European medical/psychological faculties

The petitions are available on the following links:

Please help us to gain this target and don't forget to sign both petitions

On behalf of EFS president, Kevan Wylie and MJCSM president Emmanuele Jannini, I would like to thank you in advance.

Cobi Reisman
ESSM President
